Then go back to the health care application introduction page.
You'll find your application status at the top of the page.

Can I submit other supporting documents if I answered questions about my military service history?

Yes. If you answered questions about your military service history and may have had exposure to any toxins or other hazards while you were deployed or during active duty training or service, you can also send us a written statement with more information by mail.

It's your choice whether you want to submit a written statement. We'll use the information to confirm your military service history.

Here's what you can include in your written statement:

- Any toxins or hazards you were exposed to
- Month and year when you were exposed
- Type of activity or work you were doing when you were exposed (like basic training)

And you'll need to write your name and Social Security number on your statement.

Mail your documents here:

How will I know if I'm enrolled in VA health care?

If enrolled, you'll receive a Veterans Health Benefits Handbook in the mail within about 10 days.

We'll also call to welcome you to the VA health care program, help you with scheduling your first appointment, and answer any questions you may have about your health care benefits.
